OPTION 2- To align the door, adjust the hinges accordingly

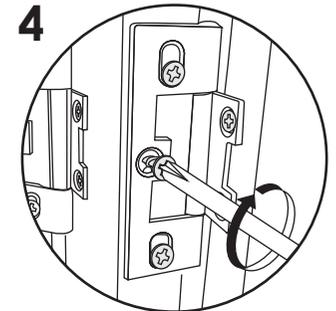

1 Remove the middle screw from the hinges to proceed.

2 Loosen the top and bottom screws

3 Adjust the door by moving it either upwards or downwards to achieve the desired position

4 Securely tighten the top and bottom screws, and then reattach the center screw.

ALIGNING THE DOOR GAP

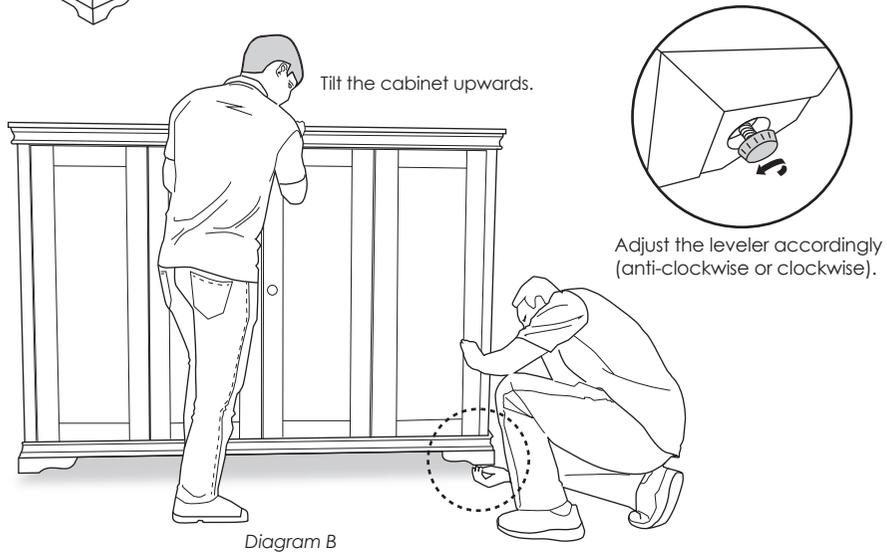

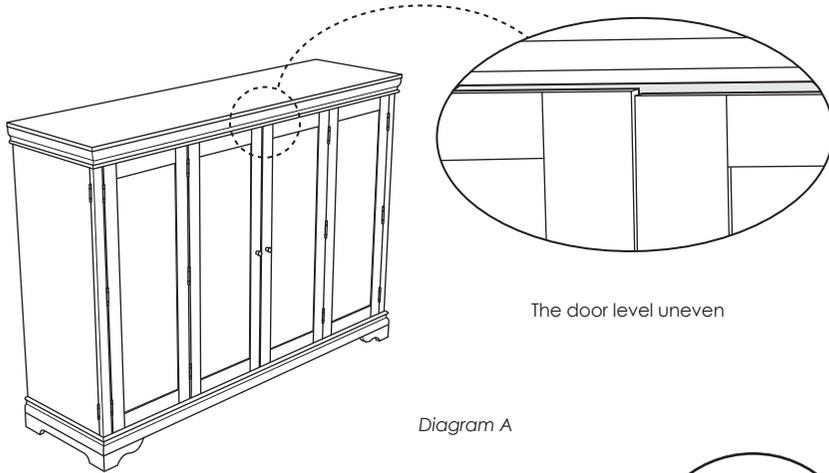

IMPORTANT: ADJUST DOOR GAP (IF NEEDED)

Please follow this step only if you observe an uneven door gap. Skip this step if the door gap is already aligned.

OPTION 1- Align the door by utilizing the leg's adjustable leveler

- To achieve an even door gap, adjust the leg's leveller located on the front bottom left or front bottom right side (refer to diagram B). If you observe uneven gaps between the doors, align them by making necessary adjustments on the respective leveller. Note that turning the leveller anti-clockwise will level the door upwards, while turning it clockwise will level it downwards.

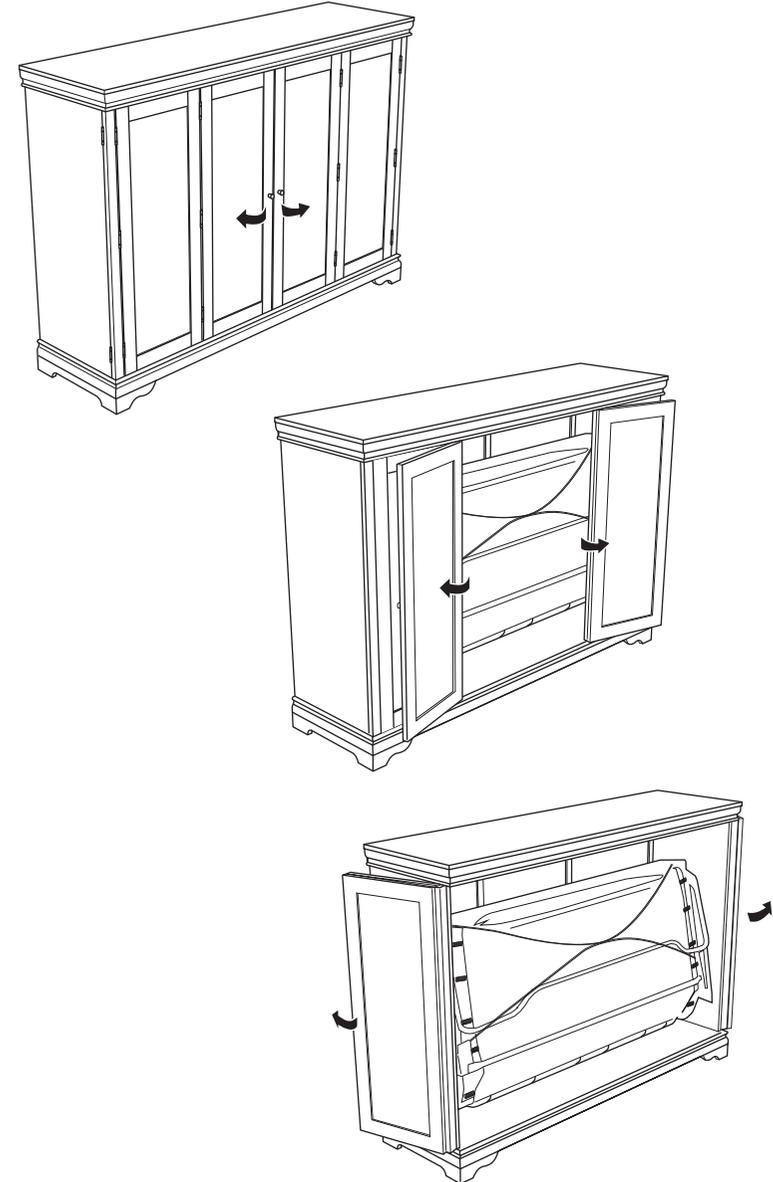

- Note: If the right door is lower than the left door, adjust the right leveler. Conversely, if the left door is lower, adjust the left leveler accordingly.

RETRACTING THE BED

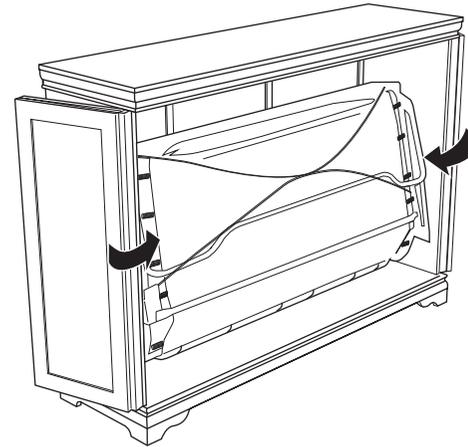

- 1 Open both the left and right cabinet doors by folding them backward on the side of the cabinet. This will reveal the bed, which is neatly folded and stored within the cabinet.

- 2 To unfold the bed, grasp the top portion and gently pull it downwards. The bed will pivot downwards as the 1st metal leg frame unfolds itself.

- 5 After the bed securely settles within the cabinet, fold both the left and right cabinet doors twice to close them.

- 4 Grasp the edge of the partially folded bed and push it upwards. The bed will pivot upwards, folding back into the cabinet.

- 3 Once the 1st metal leg frame settles on the floor, unfold the bed by pulling the 2nd metal leg frame towards you. It will fold outwards onto the floor, bringing the bed to its resting position.

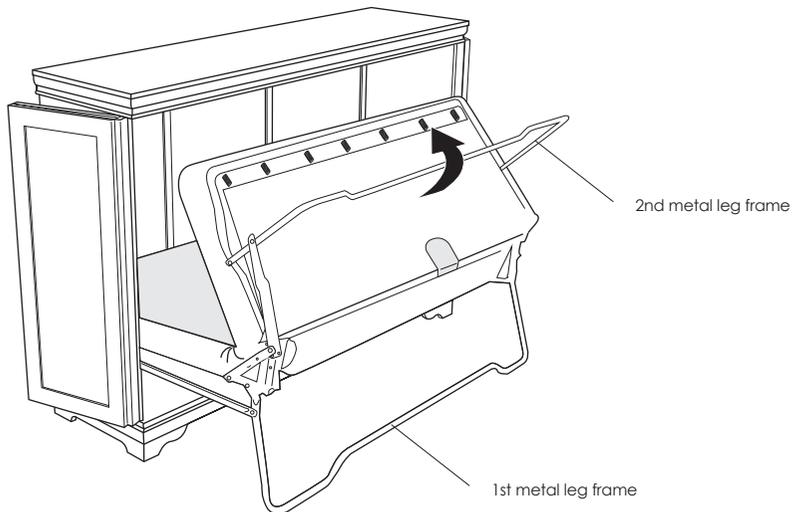

STORING THE BED

- 1 Grasp the bed frame's edge and lift it upwards; it will pivot and ascend partially into the cabinet.

- 2 Gently grip the edge of the bed frame and raise it upwards; it will pivot and move in an upward direction.

- 3 Depress the 2nd metal leg frame to the end.
